After suffering repeated tragedies in his family business and political career, ABRAHAM LINCOLN (1809-1865) was elected President of the United States during its greatest crisis, the Civil War. His name is synonymous with liberty and patriotism. He is regarded as one of our greatest presidents, both for reuniting our country and for ending slavery during his Presidency.

John Voehl presents many of Lincoln's virtues including life-long study and learning, self-improvement, honesty, integrity, perseverance, storytelling, and humor.

It is likely that more books have been written about Abraham Lincoln than any other American.

Since 1997, Voehl has portrayed Lincoln nearly 600 times in 22 states. He makes Lincoln come alive for each person in his audience. John is sponsored by the Colorado Humanities.
